he leanings toward Russia. Afraid lest his behavior during the last war should have irritated the Czar, he trice by mereased servilly to ingratiate himself into the affections of the Court of St. Petersburg. The state of Germany is sufficiently characterized by the action of the Police direction at Marburg in Hesse Cassel, of the Police direction at Marburg in Hesse Cassel, where a clab-bouse was closed for having blackballed the ex-Minister Hassenpflag, who wished to become a member of the society; the Police Director declaring that such an act is a hostile demonstration against the system of "government," and that "an association "committing such political acts cannot expect to be "telerated." The Emperor of Austria has yielded to the clames of the Ultramentane Bishops of Lembardy, and has promised to carry out their yields in prantice. and has promised to carry out their views in regard to the supervision of the book-trade and publishing estab-lishments, which amounts to a clerical consorship. It is equally well known that the liberty of the daily press in France and Spain is a pure sham; even the English liberal papers are usually confiscated at Paris and iberal papers are usually confiscated at Paris and Madrid.

The great event in political society is the marriage of Count Morny to a Russian princess of the house of Trubetakoi. Morny, the illegitimate half-brother of Napoleon, his Minister at the time of the coup d'état, and present Embassador at St. Potarsburg, has great influence with his Emperor, and therefore his matrimonial alliance is very unpalatable to the Engitish politicians, who regard it as precursory to a political alliance between Russia, France and Prussia, with the object of establianing a kind of succrainty over all the Contineous States, by the solemn declaration that those three allied powers will not allow any war to be waged in Europe, and offering their mediation in any possible dispute between the different Governments. These views have been ably expounded in a letter of a Russian statesman, which makes the round through all the European papers, and excites considerable attention. It is one of the most clever documents published, and deserves, in spite of its length, to be copied into your widely-spread paper, since it contains the expression of the aspirations of the Russian Fereign Office. You will find it in coday's London Times. Napoleon, who has lost his former reckless daring and becomes day by day more caudious, has not yet made up his English alliance, lest the reckless Lord Palmerston may countenance the conspiracies of the Republicans, and fester revolution in Paris.

Palmerston may countenance the conspiraces of the Republicans, and fester revolution in Paris.

The question of Switzerland is not yet finally settled, but it is certain that it will be settled within a few days, some susceptibilities of the King of Prusia being still in the way of a definite arrangement.

The Emperor of Austria continues his progress through his Italian dominions, without meeting with any hearty enthusiasm. He is to visit Parma and Tuscany from Milan, and then to make a pligrimage to Lorotto to the celebrated mage of the Virgin, where the Pope is to receive him and his homage. Poor Pio Nono is now serely perplexed by a rather awkward pretension of Napoleon, who desires to be crowned by the Pope. Pio Nono declined the proposition, pointing out the inconveniences of a journey to Paris; but Napoleon is not so easily befiled, and offered himself to come to Rome, to be crowned at St. Peter's, where Charlemagne and his successors were crowned. It requires now all the astuteness of the Roman See to get out of this dilemma; so much the more as there is chartenages and the astateness of the Roman See to get out of this dilemma; so much the more as there is yet another Emperor aspring to be crowned by the Pope, vizz Francis Joseph of Austria. The old Papal policy of adjourning a decisive reply to such indiscrect claims, which it is equally dangerous to admit and to refuse, will probably in this case, too, save Pio Norte fron trenble. A FRENCH MARRIAGE OF PRUDENCE.—The Paris Siecle contains the following: "On the 22th of De-ember last a town in the north of France was quite enfete on account of the marriage of Mulle. Eugenic compete on account of the marriage of Mellic. Eugenic Police, the only daughter of a manufacturer of the aphiothood, with M. Charles V.—, the sen of a staltly merchant of Paris. The marriage was one of pradence and arrangement rather than of love. All the quastions of interest had been carefully attended to but the point of mutual inclination was totally neglected. Every one seemed gay and happy, except the bride. However, the ceremony took place, and a wedding banquet followed, the whole being terminated by a splendid ball. The festivities were drawing to a close, when a servant informed the bridegroom that a gentleman desired to speak with him on a very argent aliair. The bridegroom went out, but did not return for the rest of the evening. The guests, one by one, retired, but the husband still remained absent, and at last, long after midnight, the bride withdraw to her chamber. There she at once discovered the cause of her husband's absence, for on the table by the bedside she found a small parcel and the following note from her husband:

MADAME: If I had no right in marrying you to expect a sincere affection, since we were but little acquainted with each other. I, however, looked for a heart which had never throbbed for another, and which might by assiduity and tenderness in the end make my own. But a long series of letters from you to an I might by assiduity and tendersons in the out many even. But a long series of letters from you to another man have just been placed in my hand—letters which prove, that if you gave me your hand, your affection has been given to another. I cannot, Madame, accept such an arrangement, and, as I am unable to rend assuder the bonds which have joined us a few hours since, I am determined to protest at least by my absence against the union which I have contracted, and the first day of your marriage shall be the first also of a widowhood which shall only terminate by the death of one of us. Adleu, Madam, for ever!

death of one of us. Adicu, Madam, for ever!

"The next morning the house of the rich manufacturer was plusged into consternation, for the brids was found dead in her room from the funcs of lighted charcoal. On the table lay the parcel of lotters frausmitted by her husband, and near them the following note:
"Mossizen: It is I who am in the wrong, and it is I, therefore, who ought to offer a reparation. I give you the only one that is in my power: I restore to you your liberty, and I expire imploring your pardon."

PRUSSIA & SWITZERLAND

The Indépendance Belge says that a Conference will shortly assemble at London, with the consent of Prussia, to "regularize a construre from the acts of "the Congress of Vienas"—in other words, to approve of the settlement of the Neufchâtel question. Switzerland will be represented in this Conference.

Under the heading "An Honorable Peace is Assured," the Bund, the semi-official organ of the Federal Council, on Saturday contained the following article:

"France and England have proposed conditions to Switzerland for the pacific arrangement of the Neufchâtel question, and the Swiss Federal Council has manimously resolved that these conditions are acceptable. The Federal Assembly is consequently called together for the 14th instant, and we have no doubt that the Federal Assembly also will find the conditions acceptable. The King of Prussia demanded that the Neufchâtel prisoners should be released unconditionally. After being set at liberty, all the prisoners, as well as the accused not in custody, must out the Swiss foreign tie shall be recognized by international law. After being set at liberty, all the prisoners, as well as the accused not in custody, must quit the Swiss Berritory, and will remain banished from the Confederation until the the King of Prussis shall have formally renounced Neufohatel. The Emperor of the French assured us some time back that after we had released the prisoners be would use all his efforts to obtain the renunciation of Neufohatel from the King of Prussis. He now takes upon himself the formal engagement, that when they are set at liberty, the complete independence of Neufohatel shall be recognized. At first the Emperor Napoleon desired to render us this service alone; now he does it in concert with England, and it is expected that Austria and Russia will adhere to the arrangement. France and England guarantee further, that Prussia shall immediately suspend every military demonstration against Switzerland. We consider these conditions honorable for Switzerland. We trust that the Swiss people will be content with them, for they are of their conquering. After having unanimously and recelutely risen against unbecoming assumptions, the Swiss people has acquired the esteen of Europe, and with that exteen an honorable peace, and the indopendence of the Republic of Neufohatel."

A letter from Vienna of Jan. 3, in the Prankforter

The Austrian Government has not concealed from itself that the peculiar estuation of the probable theater of war in the south of Switzerland would require the occupation of the fivo defiles on the side of the Valteline, the galleries of Lecco and other passages as far as the Tessin. Of the 26,000 men who are now in the Province of Milan, 10,000 have received orders to hold themselves ready to march. It is not contem-plated that there should be either a declaration of war gainst Switzerland, or a demonstration made against Switzerland, or a demonstration made against russia. Austria has a last word to say upon the question of Neufchatel, and will back it up with troops colected on the frontier of the Canton of Tessin."

The Pays of Seturday evening says:

Albee, who was present, nterfered to prevent the assault, when O'Brien sprang upon him and beat him in a fiendish manner. sarties were seperated for a few moments, but O Brien gain sprang upon him and renewed the assault with reater violence, after which he fled and has not thus far been taken. SALE OF THE OLD COLLEGE GROUND .- Adrian H. Muller will sell at auction to day, at the Exchange, the ground in Park place which has for a hundred years been occupied by Columbis (formerly King's) College. The lots are to be sold in fee. They are fifteen in number, fronting on Park place, and varying from 25 to 29 feet in width, and from 75 to 90 feet in depth. The Post gives the following reminiscences of this venerable institution:

passed in October, 1754, and the land on which stands the longe range of yellow buildings, where the young men of New York have, for more than three genera-tions, received a liberal education, was purchased in 1755, and first occupied in 1760. This property had 1755, and first occupied in 1760. This property had previously belonged to King's Farm, and was situated decidedly in the suburbs of the city. In the words of an account of the institution, written seven years subsequently, 'being 'otally unincumbered by adjacent buildings, and admitting the purset circulation of air buildings, and admitting the purset circulation of air from the river and every other quarter, it has the from the river and every other quarter, it has the benefit of as agreeable and healthy situation as ease possibly be conceived. College which they were passing. It continued to be known by that name till 1784, when it became Columbia College. The proceeds of public otheries laid the foundation of the College. They were increased by contributions from persons both in this increased by contributions from persons both in this contry and in England, and by grants of land from Trinaty Church, the vestrymen of which formed a majerity of the trustees, in whom its moneys were vested. A valuable grant of 24,000 acres in the northern part of this State, which was obtained in 1767, was an quently overruled by the terms of the treaty with Ver-mont, open its becoming a separate State. "The College is to be removed on the 1st of next

May to the building recently occupied as a Deaf and Dumb Arylum, which stands on the corner of Forty-niath street and Fourth avenua. It owns a large propniath street and Fourth avenua. It owns a large property in that vicinity, the gift of the State many years since, when it was known as the Elgin or Botanic Garden. At that time, it was wholly out of the world, in an almost inaccessible part of the island, on the old Middle road. It now extends along the Fifth avenue, from Forty-seventh street to Fifty-first street, maning weaverly to within about one hundred feet of the Sixth avenue, and constituting an area of some twenty acres. The college purposed building on these premises before now, but has postponed that step, in consequence of the project which has been recently made, of cutting a new avenue between the Fifth and Sixth. As the College has been compelled to abandon its present location, by the opening of a new street through College Green, it is not thought advisable to be subjected to a renewal of so disagreeable an be subjected to a renewal of so disagreeable an experience. On this account resort is had to the temperary expedient of occupying the old Deaf and Dumb Asylum building, which is being renovated and fitted up for its new owners."

There was an active Stock market this morning, and, without important change, the tendency of prices was downward. The Arago's advices and the arrival of gold by the Illinois not being satisfactory, an unfounded report was circulated between the Boards that the Arabia had arrived at Halifax, quoting Consols at 921, and this tended to increase the heaviness of the market. At the Second Board there was a fair amount of business transacted, and generally at some decline upon the figures of the morning. Reading shows a decline of \(\frac{1}{4}\)\sqrt{V} cent since yesterday, and Erie \(\frac{1}{4}\)\sqrt{V} cent.

The Western roads show a decline, with some exceptions, of 1 to 1 & cent. The movement in State Stocks is large, embracing about $215,000, including Missouri 6s at 861, Ohio's 1860, 1021 at 103; Tennessee 6s, 1800, at 90; Virginias, 93; North Carolina 6s, 95 &c. Railroad Bonds were quiet and rather heavy.

The business of the Sub-Treasury was: Receipts, $216,919 89, including $25,000 for transfer draft on Boston; Payments, $258,636 70, including $50,000 California drafts; Balance, $12 527, 918 88.

In Exchange there is but little yet doing for the Saturday steamers, and the market is firm under a small supply of bills, the result of the detention of nine New-Orleans mails which are now due.

They are also in ready connection (by plankroad) with all the valley towns from Wilkesharre to Carbondale, and from New-York distant but eight hours. The Lackawanna River, running haif a mile through the property, affords an abundant water-power for all mining and manufacturing purposes, and a saw-mili is already in full operation on the lands of the Company. Money is still quite easy on call, but the Shoe and Leather Bank were calling in some loans in prepara-tion for the city disbursements of the 1st of February. Paper is not plenty, of good character, and is in request at 8 2 10 4 cent.

A correspondent at Attica, Indiana, writes that on of the parties left in charge of the affairs of the brokes Shawnee Bank, was attacked by an indignant depositor, who demanded the return of a deposit made a day or two before, and beaten until he returne i a portion of it and promised to repay the remainder within a week. Our correspondent states that a coat of tar and feathers has been prepared for the managers of the bank if they should venture to return.

We hear of no Gold engaged for the Saturday steamer, and none went from Boston to-day. The Arago from Havre brings $330,000 in Specie-doubtless doubloons.

The La Crosse and Milwaukee Road is now com pleted from Milwaukee to Portage City, about 95 miles. Mesars. Chamberlain & Alden, the enterprising contractors, have finished the Road within the time limited by their contract; and this is one of the very few instances on record of such a result in railroad building. The Company has just let the contract for extending the Road from Portage to La Crosse to Mr. Chamberlain, of the above firm, on favorable terms. The cost of the Road, when finished, will be between $22,000 and $23,000 * mile. The annual stetement of the Eastern Division will be published in a week or two, and will, we hear, show

The British frigate Trincomalee was daily expected at Panama, with a very large remittance of silver from Mexico, stated at two millions. The Panama Railroad Company's steamer Columbus arrived at Panama on the 10th inst., on her return from her first voyage to Central America, and sailed again on the 17th inst. The Columbus reports that the crop of Coffee in Costa Rica, now being gathered. will be large-from 80,000 to 100,000 quintale. The yield of Indige in Guatemala is also large, and to com-mated at 10,000 cervons of 130 lb net each, of which only 600 ceroons had been exported when the Columbus arrived at La Union. The steamer has a ful freight engaged for her second return trip, com

The Panama Railroad line is in a good and continually improving condition.

A considerable amount of work is now being done on the road, which has been very much needed heretoform, and the necessity of which the past rainy season made very apparent, but which was inevitably postponed; now it is progressing finely—the strongthening and solidizing now going on upon several points of the line, as well as the durable mason-work under construction, will very materially diminish the exponse of repair and the cost of wear and fear upon the road during the coming year. The present programme of labor to be urged includes the superiseding of the wooden with item brieges, and the substitution of more durable cross-tien over all perticus of the line not hitherto thus reaswed.

Every prospect which we note, gives promise of great increase in the business of the road.

The Illinois brings $1,168,060 in Gold, which is considerably below the usual semi-monthly remittanes. A portion of the decrease is accounted for by the continued small receipts of Gold at San Francisco from the interior. Another cause of the decrease will be found in large amounts (some $300,000) sent direct to London from Aspinwall, against which Sterling Bills are remitted here. About $70,000 also week to New-Orleans for the purchase of Exchange, which belongs to a banking-house in this city. This, with the Government drafts, of which $50,000 were paid to-day at the Sub-Treasury, makes a remittance of over a million and a half. The raises having now set in, and the miners being fully employed,

The receipts of dust at San Francisco will now increase. Nearly all the gold by the Illinois was in coin. The mining news is favorable. In State Stocks there was but little doing, and those of 1870 and 1875 were quoted nominally at 50. A bill had been prepared and would probably be passed by the Legislature, submitting the question of the assumption of the State debt to the people. Although it is to be hoped that the State faith will be maintained, yet the result is by no means certain. The total exports of treasure from San Francisco in 1856, as compared with the previous year, stands thus:

Exports in 1851...$34,80,000 Rxports in 1851...$41,425,000
Exports in 1852...$5,700 000 Exports in 1853...$4,125,000

The gold movement outward, during the past year, presents some features worth remarking when comtrasted with that of former years. The shipments of 1856, compared with those of 1855, show an increase of $5,514,803. Of this sum the increased shipments to England and China make up the greater proportion, as the money market are given in the annexed extract from the latest London Times:

The English funds opened this morning at a further reduction, and subsequently experienced several variations. Convois for money, which closed last evening at 934, were first quoted 934 2832. Some purchases at 934, were first quoted 934 2832. Some purchases at the part of the public then cansed a recovery, which was assisted by a revival of the statement that the Bank of France are about to increase their capital, the inference being that after that step they will again be ready to assist the speculators on the Bourse. Transactions accordingly took place at 934, but the fact of the East India Company having raised their rate for bills to a point which will most probably cause the experison of silver to be rearmed with unabated force prevented the market from exhibiting any greet animatem, and the final prices were 934 for money, and 94 for the 9th of February.
